We all agree that our students deserve the opportunity to succeed.

SO why has this government chosen to abandon them?

- Larger class sizes
- Removing the necessary supports for special needs students

Every teacher knows that this is a recipe for failure and will not lead to student perseverance.

If Quebec's real desire is to increase success and graduation rates, then it would serve you well to listen to your teachers.

Let's abandon this ill-conceived budget-inspired plan. Now is the time to reaffirm that public education is an investment in Quebec's future. Teachers and their students need to know that the government has their best interests at heart.
